

JONATHAN AMDUR

Nassau Bay Mayoral Candidate

Jonathan and Stacey moved to Nassau Bay in 2006 and immediately felt at home. Jonathan joined the fire department that year, and served the City during Hurricane Ike (2008) as a member of the Nbfd ride-out crew. He was elected to City Council in 2011, and served four successive terms. During his time on Council, areas of particular interest to him included economic development, public safety, and fiscal responsibility. A true fiscal conservative, he holds distinction as the only candidate for Mayor who served on Council and never accepted the offered monthly stipend for his services (he always directed it to remain with the City).

Jonathan has served the City in numerous other voluntary capacities, including: Nassau Bay Economic Development Corporation (Vice-President, 2013-2019; Treasurer, 2011-2013); Nassau Bay Tax Increment Reinvestment Zone and Redevelopment Authority Treasurer, 2011-2019; Houston-Galveston Area Council (Delegate, 2013-2017; Alternate Delegate, 2011-2013, 2017-2019); Biggert-Waters [Flood Insurance Reform Act] Task Force Member (2013); Public Safety Task Force Member (2014).

His main priorities as Mayor will focus on public safety, fiscal well-being, and infrastructural maintenance and upgrades – all for the overarching purposes of keeping our property taxes low and our quality of life high.

In his private life, he runs a small law firm. Additionally, he sits on the legal advisory board of a technology start-up, and is an investor in a virtual-reality gaming technology company. He and Stacey live with their two daughters, Kate and Isabella, and their two rescue dogs, Kai and Auggie.
